While gaining a lot of web development experience in the last two years, my time at Coding Bootcamp Codify Academy is where I have excelled the most! I have mentors/colleagues/Github that can verify my talent, drive, and work. (especially with CSS, Bootstrap, Responsive Design, & Javascript) Prior to that I spent a year in multiple online bootcamps and completed 1,000's of hours worth of certified courses. My portfolio website displays work I've done. Thank you for the opportunity! I hope to hear from you soon.

Having an advanced level of skill and knowledge in many areas, I still find myself being an "advanced googler" everyday lol Any real developer knows how to be a Stack Overflow forum champion while digging for answers. While I can surely get the job done, I am constantly learning and can set the tone in a prospering work environment.

Works very well under pressure and in fast paced environments with strict deadlines. Extremely punctual & dependable. When things get rough I'm the one you can depend on to step up and get the job done.

Technical Toolbox

Web Tools: Javascript, Git/Github, Bootstrap4, CSS3, HTML5, Command Line Terminal, Gimp/Photoshop, Slack, creating responsive web sites/ apps/ services/ emails. I am briefly familiar with the REACT, ES6, Babel, Node, stack. Currently in the early learning stages of back end development with Node, PHP & My SQL.
